When we use words such as "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "estimate," "expect," or similar expressions, we do so to identify forward-looking statements. Examples of forward-looking statements include the plans and objectives of management for future operations, including those relating to future growth of our business activities and availability of funds, and estimates of the impact of material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting, and are based on current expectations that involve assumptions that are difficult or impossible to predict accurately and many of which are beyond our control. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied in these statements as a result of significant risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the merger agreement, including as a result of any downgrade in the A.M. Best Financial Strength Rating of the Company's insurance subsidiaries below "A", which risk may be heightened due to the fact that such ratings are currently "under review with negative implications" and that the Company has previously disclosed material weaknesses in its internal controls over financial reporting, the inability to obtain the requisite stockholder approval for the proposed merger or the failure to satisfy other conditions to completion of the proposed merger, risks that the proposed transaction disrupts current plans and operations, the ability to recognize the benefits of the merger, the amount of the costs, fees, expenses and charges related to the merger, non-receipt of expected payments from insureds or reinsurers, changes in interest rates, changes in tax laws, the effect of the performance of financial markets on our investment portfolio, the amounts, timing and prices of any share repurchases made by us under our share repurchase program, development of claims and the effect on loss reserves, accuracy in projecting loss reserves, the cost and availability of reinsurance coverage, the effects of emerging claim and coverage issues, changes in the demand for our products, our degree of success in integrating acquired businesses, the effect of general economic conditions, state and federal legislation, regulations and regulatory investigations into industry practices, our ability to timely and effectively remediate the material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting and implement effective internal control over financial reporting and disclosure controls and procedures in the future, access to public markets to raise debt or equity capital, risks associated with conducting business outside the United States, the impact of Brexit, developments relating to existing agreements, disruptions to our business relationships with Maiden Holdings, Ltd. or National General Holdings Corp., breaches in data security or other disruptions with our technology, any inability to keep pace with technological advances, heightened competition, changes in pricing environments, changes in asset valuations and the results of legal proceedings. Additional information about these risks and uncertainties, as well as others that may cause actual results to differ materially from those projected, is contained in our filings with the SEC, including our Annual Report on Form 10-K and our quarterly reports on Form 10-Q. - All cash offer provides unaffiliated stockholders immediate liquidity at a significant, certain premium to AmTrust's unaffected closing stock price on January 9, 2018⁽¹⁾
- Robust, independent diligence process by Special Committee, formed by independent directors of AmTrust, to ensure value was maximized
- Highest price available following two-month process
- No alternative acquisition proposals identified during process
- Shifts the business risks and uncertainties faced by the Company to the buyer group as AmTrust undertakes transformation program to achieve sustainable profitability

(1) The last trading day prior to the public announcement to acquire all common shares outstanding of AmTrust that the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family did not already own or control.

Transaction Highlights

- Stone Point Capital, the Karfunkel Family and the CEO to Acquire AmTrust Financial Services, Inc. (“AmTrust” or the “Company”)
 - AmTrust has entered into a definitive agreement with Evergreen Parent, L.P. (“Evergreen Parent”), an entity formed by private equity funds managed by Stone Point Capital LLC (“Stone Point”), together with Barry Zyskind, Chairman and CEO of AmTrust, George Karfunkel and Leah Karfunkel (collectively, the “Karfunkel-Zyskind Family”), in which Evergreen Parent will acquire the ~45% of the Company’s issued and outstanding common shares that the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family and certain of its affiliates and related parties do not presently own or control.
 - The transaction values the fully diluted equity of the Company at approximately $2.7 billion, excluding the Company’s outstanding preferred stock.
 - To support the transaction offer price of $13.50 per share, the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family agreed to increase the cap on the reserve adjustment and to cause the Company to pay Stone Point a transaction fee.
- $13.50 per share in cash provides significant, immediate and certain premium to unaffiliated stockholders
 - Represents a 33% premium to the unaffected closing common stock price of $10.15 on January 9, 2018, the last trading day prior to the public announcement to acquire all common shares outstanding of AmTrust that the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family did not already own or control
 - Represents a 34% premium to price 1-month prior to January 9, 2018 ($10.08)
 - Represents a 22% premium to 90-day VWAP through January 9, 2018 ($11.03)⁽¹⁾
 - Negotiations resulted in an increase to the merger consideration of $1.25 from the per share consideration offered in the initial proposal, representing an increase of greater than 10%
 - No alternative acquisition proposals identified during process
- All cash transaction at significant premium given risks
 - Value to the unaffiliated stockholders of the Company continuing as an independent public company would not be as great as the merger consideration, due to the public market’s emphasis on short-term performance and the potential risks and uncertainties associated with the near-term prospects of the Company

(1) Calculated as the average of daily volume weighted average prices.

Process Overview

Process was rigorous and objective with the goal of maximizing stockholder value

- The Special Committee met more than 28 times since inception
- Considered the range of risks and potential likelihood of achieving greater value for stockholders via strategic alternatives to the merger
- Since the public announcement of the transaction proposal, none of the Company, the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family, the Special Committee or any of the Special Committee's independent legal and financial advisors received any inbound inquiries from third parties related to potential alternative acquisition proposals

Procedural safeguards favorable to stockholders and fairness of merger

- The Special Committee consists of independent and disinterested directors
- Rigorous legal and financial diligence conducted by experienced, internationally recognized independent advisors, with extensive experience in similar transactions
 - Financial advisors Deutsche Bank Securities, Inc. (“Deutsche Bank”)
 - Legal advisors Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP (“Willkie”)
- Merger Agreement allows the Board or the Special Committee to consider and respond to unsolicited third-party acquisition proposals
- Merger Agreement cannot be amended without the approval of the Special Committee

Fisch, Abraham Gulkowitz and Raul Rivera, the first three of whom are independent members of the audit committee of the Board and the fourth an independent member of the compensation committee of the Board – Although the Special Committee was initially formed to consider the Section 203 waiver request, the Board also discussed its expectation that the Special Committee would engage an independent financial advisor and independent counsel to assist the Special Committee, further evaluate the independence of each member of the Special Committee with such counsel and, if in the future the Special Committee expected Stone Point and the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family to make a formal proposal, to request such additional authority and powers as the Special Committee, with the advice of its counsel, determined to be necessary or appropriate to evaluate such as proposal and other strategic alternatives available to the Company. – Later that day, the Special Committee members met with the audit committee's independent counsel to discuss the formation and role of the Special Committee and resolved to grant a revocable waiver under Section 203 to permit Stone Point to discuss a potential transaction with the Karfunkel-Zyskind Family

Full Range of Strategic Alternatives Considered

Scenario	Description	Potential benefits	Considerations
Status Quo	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Continue to execute on the current business plan – Minority stake continues to be owned by public stockholders 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Advantages of being public including access to equity capital markets and public currency – Benefit from remedial actions that are already underway 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Risks to executing management plan – Continued pressure from rating agencies, regulators and clients – Impact of continued distraction from public markets
Sale to Third Party	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Explore 100% sale of AmTrust to a third party strategic or financial buyer – Since announcement of offer on January 9, 2018 no strategic or financial buyers have contacted the Company, the Special Committee or their respective financial advisors 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Could facilitate price discovery – Strategic buyers may identify potential synergies through consolidation of AmTrust's platform 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Family stockholders have stated they do not intend to sell stake and their intent not to vote their shares in favor of an alternative transaction – Further management distraction and required extensive due diligence for a broad sale process
Recapitalization / share buybacks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Lever up balance sheet and / or return excess capital to stockholders 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Buybacks would be accretive to book value per share, earnings per share and ROE given Company's current trading levels – Attractive financing environment 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Company has limited / no incremental leverage capacity or excess capital – Any additional leverage or reduction in capital would likely put further pressure on AmTrust's A.M. Best rating (already on negative watch)
Reinsurance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Recapture all / part of premium ceded to enhance earnings 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Increase earnings and profitability of the Company 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Complicated and time-intensive to negotiate and execute – Unclear ability to capture better economics given likely tradeoffs on terms and conditions
M&A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Undertake strategic M&A to enhance positioning of company 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Supplement organic growth via accretive M&A 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Company has communicated to regulators and rating agencies that it has limited near-term plans for M&A – Resumption of M&A activity would likely put pressure on ratings – Would distract from ongoing initiatives to right-size the business and restore profitability

Price Negotiations to Obtain Best Offer

(1) Stone Point agrees to initial offer only with reserve adjustment that indemnifies Stone Point for an adverse reserve development

(2) Stone Point agrees to increase bid from $13.00 to $13.50 only after Karfunkel-Zyskind Family agrees to increase reserve adjustment and pay Stone Point a $15.0 million closing transaction fee

AmTrust Corrects Icahn's Inaccuracies

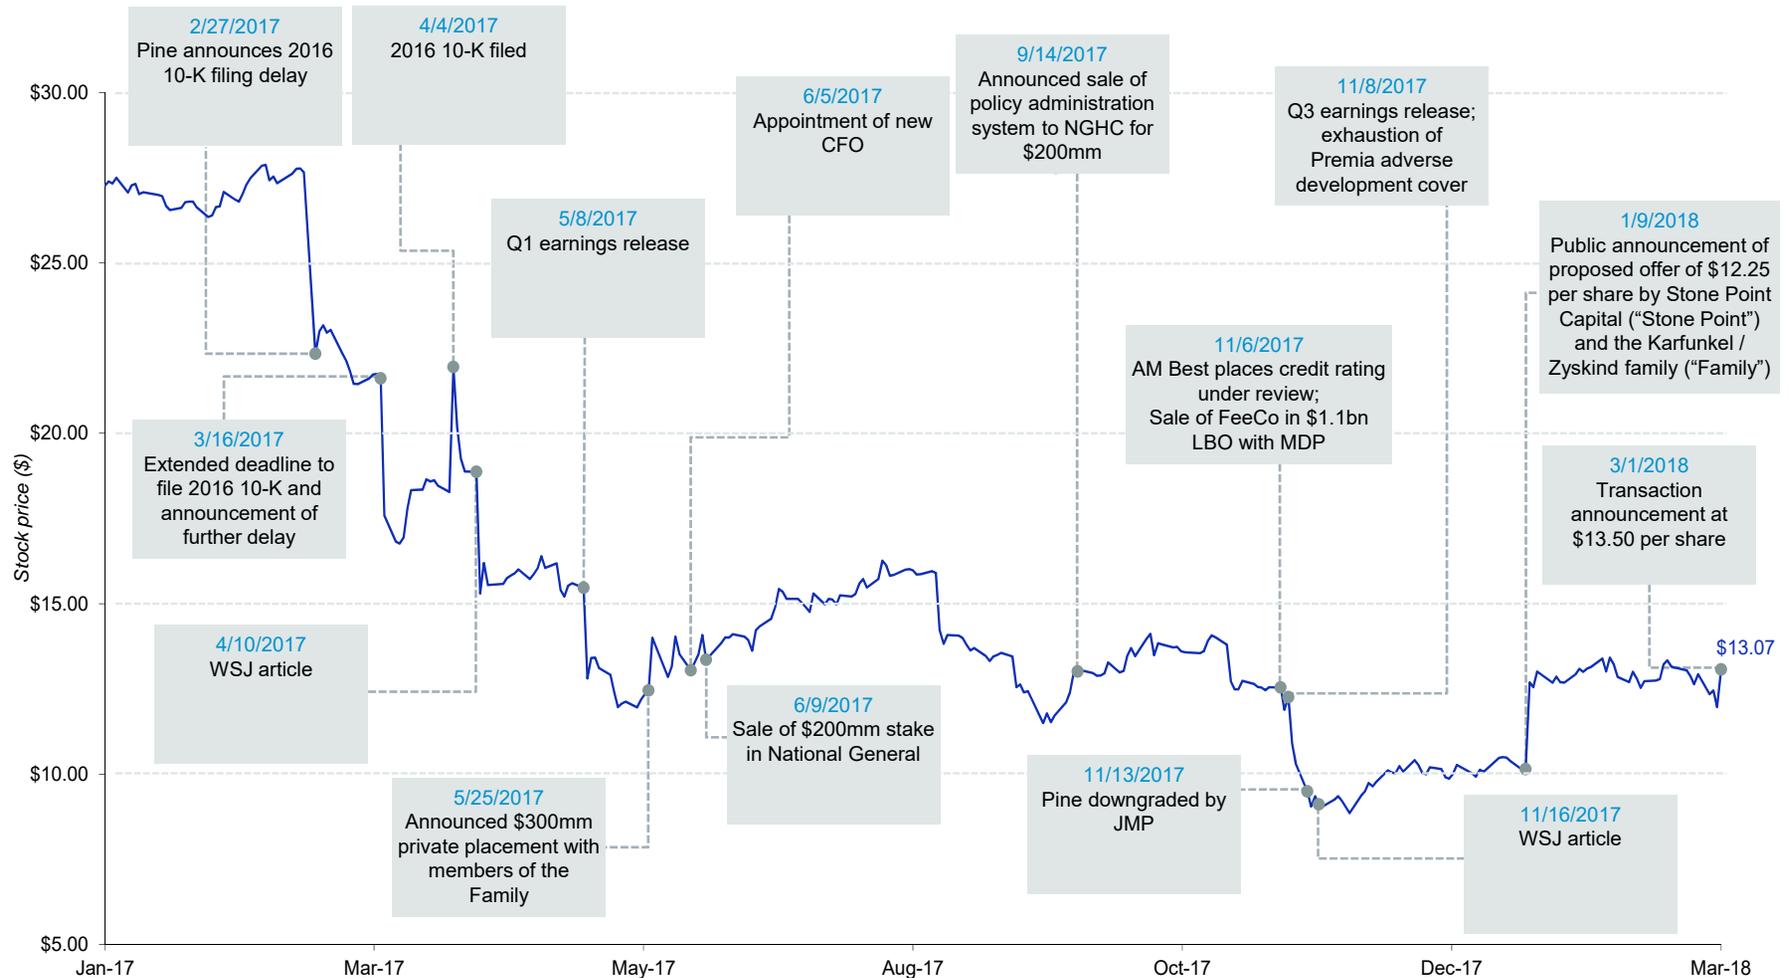

Summary

Provides Unaffiliated Stockholders with Certain Value and Removes Risk

- In addition to providing immediate liquidity at a significant premium, the transaction provides certain value to unaffiliated stockholders and shifts the business risk and uncertainties faced by the Company to the buyer group, including:
 - Ongoing reputational and business pressures faced by the Company
 - Slower growth, including higher than expected loss and combined ratios for fiscal 2017 and Q4 2017 and the likelihood that such performance would be sustained for a longer than originally anticipated period of time negatively impacting the Company's premium growth, underwriting margins and profitability;
 - Material weaknesses the Company identified in its internal controls over financial reporting, which could result in adverse publicity, further litigation or action by governmental entities;
 - Risk of a potential ratings downgrade by A.M. Best below "A", especially in light of the fact that such ratings are "under review with negative implications", which would likely reduce the amount of business the Company is able to write;
 - The Company is named as defendants in various legal actions, including securities class action lawsuits;
 - The Company has been responding to an investigation by the SEC.

Transaction transfers all risks and uncertainties of the business to the buyer group

AmTrust Sell-Side Analyst Perspectives

“We can surmise that AFSI management is concerned that short-term headlines may continue to keep pressure on shares...By taking some of these issues out of the publicly traded limelight, the company can remain focused on evolving to the company into a more mature insurance platform and less distracted by share volatility. Given the recent reserve charges in the past two years, the market would not be shocked to see an additional charge... We could see a raised offer between $13 and $13.50 per share.”

-Compass Point Research & Trading (Ken Billingsley); January 12, 2018

“Good time to be private...AFSI has been in the process of effectively recapitalizing itself in light of ongoing reserve charges...this has happened in the context of the company seeking to remedy control weaknesses... AFSI has a significant global franchise that has a good chance to move past these issues and grow again in the future. The franchise may weather the volatility around this period better as a private company.”

-B. Riley FBR (Randy Binner); March 1, 2018

“We believe the $13.50 offer price (116% of 4Q17 BVPS) will be accepted, since we think the shares would struggle to reach that level if AmTrust remains a public company... AFSI hasn't fully fixed its material financial control weaknesses... We believe difficult P&C market conditions and uncertainty about AmTrust's core earnings prospects will limit near-term outperformance.”

-Keefe, Bruyette & Woods (Meyer Shields); March 19, 2018

AmTrust Sell-Side Analyst Perspectives (cont'd)

“We are Neutral on AFSI with a price target near tangible book value. We have reservations around AFSI reserve deficiency following their 2017 pretax adverse charge of ~$420M and based on our recent reserve analysis. AFSI has a significant global franchise that has a good chance to move past these issues and grow again in the future. The franchise may weather the volatility around this period better as a private company. We reiterate our Neutral rating.”

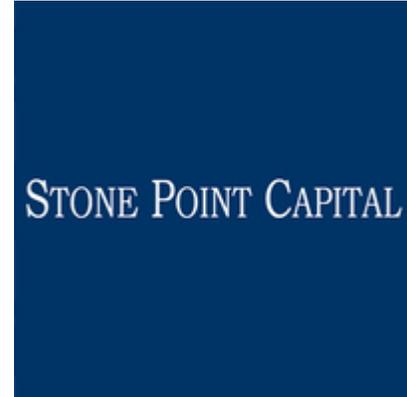

-B. Riley FBR (Randy Binner); May 18, 2018

“At this point, (absent a settlement between the current bidders and Mr. Icahn) we think that if the going-private transaction is disrupted, AFSI shares are much more likely to trade down significantly (we note that they closed at $10.15 on January 9, 2018, before the initial $12.25 go-private offer was disclosed) rather than up. We don't know whether the Zyskind/Karfunkel family and Stone Point Capital will agree to another bid increase, and we don't expect a third-party bid, given the Zyskind/Karfunkel family's current majority ownership of AFSI.”

-Keefe, Bruyette & Woods (Meyer Shields); May 17, 2018

AmTrust Overview

Evergreen Transaction Result of Robust Process

Removes Significant Business Risks and Uncertainties

AmTrust Corrects Icahn's Inaccuracies

Summary

AmTrust Corrects Icahn's Inaccuracies

Icahn's valuation analysis⁽¹⁾ is highly flawed

- Icahn's valuation analysis selectively includes only two levers with mistaken assumptions to advance his own self interests.
 - Deutsche Bank, independent financial advisor to the Special Committee, used a comprehensive valuation framework with a variety of accepted valuation methodologies including: 1) Public trading multiples 2) Dividend discount model 3) Precedent insurance transactions 4) Precedent minority squeeze-outs, and also references 5) Public market performance and research perspectives.
 - Icahn's valuation analysis selectively uses only two levers – a Return-on-Equity ("ROE") regression and research analyst estimates – and applies both inaccurately.
- Icahn's distortion⁽²⁾ of Deutsche Bank's ROE vs. P/BVPS valuation ("ROE regression") is fundamentally flawed.
 - Management has stated that a 12-15% ROE is a long-term financial objective, not a 2018 forecast as applied in Icahn's valuation.
 - Likewise, sell-side analysts' ROE forecasts are below Icahn's assumption for the next several years.
 - Icahn's ROE analysis only uses book value and ignores tangible book value, which is a key metric to assess value in the insurance industry.
 - As of 3/31/2018, AmTrust's tangible book value was $9.62 per fully diluted share.
 - Offer price of $13.50 represents a 40% premium to tangible book value per fully diluted share.

$13.50 represents a 33% premium to AmTrust's unaffected closing stock price⁽³⁾

Icahn's valuation analysis⁽¹⁾ is highly flawed

- Icahn wrongly asserts that AmTrust's historical loss ratio, combined ratio and premium growth performance is sustainable and ignores AmTrust's actual recent financial performance and business realities.
 - AmTrust's historical premium performance reflects a period of high growth, largely as a result of acquisitions, which can also contribute to reserve volatility. As a larger, more mature business, with less M&A activity, premiums are expected to grow at an average of 4.2%⁽²⁾, versus the peer 10-year average of 4.7%.
 - Reducing AmTrust's expense ratio to historical levels is virtually impossible due to higher average acquisition costs related to a change in business mix and other increased expense commensurate with the size and scale of our business.
- Icahn's valuation analysis uses outdated and widely divergent analyst estimates⁽³⁾, resulting in a misleading and meaningless target price.
 - Icahn's analysis cites sell-side analysts who either no longer cover the Company or who have not published on AmTrust since November 2017.
 - Icahn includes sell-side analyst target prices that have not been updated to reflect the Company's completion of the sale of a portion of its fee business in February 2018 or the Company's adverse development cover.
 - Sell-side analysts that currently follow the Company and have an opinion support the transaction at the offer price of $13.50 per share in cash.
- Icahn uses irrelevant, incorrect and misinformed metrics to confuse shareholders.
 - Icahn's analysis cites a "Total Reserves to Total Capital" ratio, which is not a metric used to evaluate the value of a P&C insurance company by those familiar with the industry. The metric does not offer relevant insight into the Company's capital position or reserve position.

$13.50 represents a 33% premium to AmTrust's unaffected closing stock price⁽⁴⁾

(2) Based on Special Committee case projections included in merger proxy filed on 5/4/2018.
