

Financial Strength

Strong Financial Performance

Having solid financial backing is critical when choosing an insurance carrier. AmTrust is here to support our agents, brokers and insureds, now and in the future. AmTrust Financial is committed to focusing on our core businesses. We are continually optimizing and improving our claims, underwriting and loss control services to support our agents and policyholders.

Collaboration throughout the organization, supported by good data and execution across teams, will enable us to continue delivering an outstanding experience for our partners and clients and maintain a strong financial performance going forward.
