Side A

Side A Coverage applies when the financial institution cannot indemnify the board due to a shareholder derivative demand or as a result of financial institution failure. In such instances, Side A Coverage directly protects the personal assets of the financial institution's directors and officers. Coverage is provided for actual or alleged negligence, errors, omissions, or breaches of fiduciary duty by the Insured Persons in the discharge of their duties. There is no retention applicable to Side A.

Side B

Side B Coverage applies when the Company is legally permitted or required to indemnify the Insured Persons. This Insuring Agreement provides the same protection to the Insured Persons as Side A Coverage, subject to corporate retention. The corporate retention is generally determined based on the size and complexity of the institution.

Side C

For privately-held institutions:

Side C Coverage protects the Company against losses that are not covered under any other Coverage Part. Commonly referred to as "third-party" coverage, Side C covers lawsuits brought by individuals or entities other than a borrower or a customer. AmTrust's Side C Coverage also provides optional Investigative Expense Coverage for any shareholder derivative demand made against the Company.

For publicly-traded institutions:

Some insurers use Side C to extend Securities Liability Coverage to the Company. AmTrust provides Securities Liability Coverage by endorsement to the D&O Policy.

Note: Underwriting Guidelines apply to "third-party" coverage.

Coverage Extensions

- AmTrust's D&O Policy provides the Insured Persons with an additional $1 million in excess Side A Coverage at no additional charge. This coverage extension is commonly referred to as an "A-Side Tower".
- If the Insured Persons serve on the Board of Directors of any not-for-profit entity at the direction of the Company, D&O coverage extends to the Insured Persons on an excess basis over any other insurance and indemnification.
